"Display media content on another screen"

February 14th Upcoming Meeting Presentation

After the Windows SIG and short business, Merle will connect a Chromecast device and display content from an Android device and Windows 10 to the screen wirelessly. This is a very inexpensive way to get content such as Netflix, YouTube, HBO, Hulu, ESPN, internet browser and more to a large screen, TV or anything with an HDMI input.

Before the meeting, you can preview the Chromecast device capability at:
